Perfect Match: Sonia Roselli Partners Up

Perhaps you're familiar with Sonia Roselli (7363 N. Greenview Ave., 312.371.8596, soniaroselliweddings.com) from her gorgeous bridal makeup, but as Roselli would tell you, "as a makeup artist and licensed esthetician I can't stress enough to my clients that beautiful makeup begins with great skin." In other words, don't try to paint the wall without doing a little scraping first.

But skincare is a serious biz, and since opening her studio nearly 20 years ago, Roselli has been seeing more and more clients who need help that goes beyond what her esthetic license has to offer. Serious treatments of melasma, acne scarring and deep lines and wrinkles can only get so far in her esthetics' room. "While regular facials are fantastic for minor issues and maintenance, I wanted to offer my clients something more than what I could give them at my studio."

Enter the Joffrey Institute (601 N. Martingale Rd., Suite 155, Schaumburg, 847.995.9000, joffreyinstitute.com), a med spa offering esthetic services that utilize cutting edge technology and technique with an emphasis on safety, confidential-ity and natural-appearing results. Their physician directed treatment plans contour to your specific needs, eliminating cookie cutter results.

Don't get us wrong—Sonia still wants us in her treatment room (and the feeling is mutual), but Father Time has a way of catching up fast and we're going to be ready for him.
